June was the third month of this competition and with no open round this month pilots flew on their own flying sites. Ken Taylor and Dick James continue to dominate this event, however, Den Saxcoburg moves into third place with 22 points after reaching a speed of 70 MPH, just! The rest of us are trying to break into the 70 MPH speed range and the improvements seem to be achieved only in very small steps. On Sunday 3 July there was an open control line day at Cashmoor and several new pilots had a go and plan to build models for the future.
